Privileges Granted the Purchaser

1. Should purchaser decide within 30 days from date of delivery to have different characteristics built into the hearing aid, it may be returned to the Radioear Laboratory at Pittsburgh, Pa., and built to the new characteristics. If returned after 30 days for such change in the characteristics, the regular rebuild charge will be made.
2. If such change is ordered by purchaser within 30 days, and the characteristics selected are such that the purchase price of the hearing aid would be less than the amount paid, the difference between this price and the amount paid will be refunded to purchaser. Should the characteristics selected involve higher-priced units, the purchaser in such case pays the difference in price resulting from such change. Should characteristics selected be such that the original purchase price is the same, change will be made without charge to the customer.
